Colonel Cutsbaw explained that $4.500 would be needed to finish Broad street and the boulevard. Colonel W. E. Cutshaw urged that money spent on streets and parks is the wisest investments the city ever makes. Every dollar put on them represents a return. He said that $180.000 was needed for stone paying for our streets, of which more than $50.000 is for repaying alone. One hundred and twenty-seven thousand dollars was asked for curbing and gutters. The Colonel felt that the whole policy of the Council had been wrong. Other departments of the city government had been built up at the expense of the Other departments of the city government, had been built up at the expense of the slowly. Street Department. Since 1872 the increased appropriations to other departments had averaged 50 per cent., whilst that to streets was about the same. He thought that the other departments should receive only what they did last year, and wait until the Street Department had received the same proportionate increase as had been awarded other departments. If the city should spend afternoon departments. If the city should spend $500,000 ayear for ten years the result would be that our population would be doubled and our taxable values increased manifold.

In the Police Court yesterday, when the case of Wilson Loney, the old colored man arrested Saturday on the charge of committing perjury in his depositions octore A. J. Gary, a notary public, in the matter of the contest between Hon. George D. Wise and Judge Edmund Waddill, was called, Justice Crutchfield was informed that application had been or would be made to Judge Hughes, of the United States Court, for a writ of the concerner, and the case was continued habeas corpus, and the case was continued until this morning.

Mr. Edgar Allan obtained the writ from Judge Hughes and the case was to have been

The occused is charged with having sworn falsely as to his residence when aving his deposition on the 2d of February. In his testimony before the notary on the 2d of February Loney gave the number and street on which he resided, and said that several persons lived in the same house. The names of three of these he could not remember, he said, and Captain Wise objected to his signing his deposition until he had given these three names. Soon after Loney left the stand another witness gave the same street and number as his residence.

This is the first question that naturally arises, but that it will be answered affirmatively no one doubts. The fact that Canon Carmichael came here to preach with a view to being called, or upon the invitation of a church with a call probable, almost guarantees his acceptance. While it is not probatees his acceptance. While it is not probate tees his acceptance. While it is not probate and performent remarks.

Mr. Berry After a Thief. Last night some thief entered the resi-fence of Mr. Oscar H. Berry, 108 east Cary street, from the rear, and was making his way up-stairs when his footsteps were heard by some one and an alarm was given.
The thief retraced his steps and made his escape through a back door.
Mr. Becry, with his revolver in his hand, Mr. Berry, with his revolver in his hand, started in pursuit. When he reached the sidewalk he was told by a colored woman, who was standing near, that the man had gone down the street, and a colored boy contirmed what the woman said. Mr. Berry soon gave up the search and returned to his house, but later in the eventug he saw the same woman and boy at the corner of Second and Frankiin streets and determined to follow them. At Fourth and Main streets, after a short consultation, the woman and boy separated, the latter the woman and boy separated, the latter going down Main, followed by Mr. Berry, At Sixth street the boy was halled and started on a run. He then showed how comparatively little has been done since the latter date in the work of Church the extension, while the numerical strencth of the Church is greater now than in 1896 by over 2.000 members. He urged that the people should show their gratitude for this greated how their powerly to atvance the cause of the Lord in the city. God only requires each person to work and to give as they may have the ability. He announced that it would take about $10,000 to do the contemplated work, and he expected to rate the most of its tith meeting and the remainder later on. He read a list of users from his own church subscribing over $2,000.

A collection was then taken up under the direction of Mr. Avvill and resulted in an offering of about $8,500, with promises for more from those who were not able to be present.
